We are offering for sale a charming rustic terraced house - a part of a complex of 4 houses. It would make a relaxing holiday or permanent home for those who love tranquillity, beautiful views, walking in the countryside or growing own fruit and veg under the sun. It has generous size living spaces and plenty of scope for adding more - there are parts of the house that have not been fully reformed yet, for example a third bedroom. The house is located in Regional Park Sierra del Carche with plenty of cycling routes, walking trails and bodegas offering quality wine. Thick walls keep the house cool in the summer and warm in the winter - there are also two impressive fireplaces in the living room. The house is connected to the electric grid and has its own water supply via a natural mountain spring.
