About the property

Space in abundance, superbly presented and with spectacular sea views! This amazing 4 bedroom maisonette offers more than initially meets the eye, the unique position overlooking the sea, combined with the proximity to the town and beach make this a wonderful home to enjoy the best that Ventnor has to offer.

A tucked away position, this spacious home sits within a 1840's stone built residence with a feeling of escapism overlooking the English Channel. The property comes with off road parking in the form of an allocated space. The outside space is impressive with a large paved area, perfect for entertaining and barbecues. There is an additional decked area for the annexed bedroom and en-suite which creates a space connected but private from the main property, the current owner has successfully used this as an Airbnb.

The maisonette itself is quite surprising in the sheer space it offers, the bedrooms are all doubles with two offering sea views and doors onto the terraced area. The lounge/study area again exudes character and period charm as much of the property does. Further to this, there is a dining room, utility room and modern fitted kitchen. To compliment the bedrooms, there is both a bathroom and shower room whilst the annexe benefits from the en-suite shower.
